Bordeaux 2009 en-primeur

June 17, 2010

The general conclusion is that this is indeed a great vintage: the extreme richness is nicely balanced by acidity, with final blends typically at 14° alcohol, 7-9° of residual sugar and a refreshing 3.8 g/l or so total acidity [roughly 5.8 g/l tartaric]. This suggests a very different kind of wine to the fatter, softer but similarly very sweet vintages like 2005, 2003, 1990, 1976, and (I am told) 1947, 1929 and 1921, and a similar style of wine to the more vibrant but just-as-sweet and complex wines of 2001, 1989, 1975, 1959, and, I am told, 1858 and 1847.

BILL BLATCH, Négociant Vintex, www.jancisrobinson.com

I love the way the wines have such opulent fruit backed by powerful tannins. Yet the tannins are round and polished with the top wines. In addition, the reds are fresh and vibrant. A lot of people make comparisons to 1982, which I have to agree with to some extent but, honestly, I think they are better.

JAMES SUCKLING, www.winespectator.com

Overall this vintage can offer more sheer pleasure than any I can remember and may well provide delicious drinking throughout its life while we wait for the 2005s to emerge from their tannic corsets. JANCIS ROBINSON

The best thing about 2009 is that there is so much good wine at the lower levels which means decent affordable Bordeaux will be available and should be a major part of any buying strategy. MICHAEL MCNAMARA, PWS

Welcome to the first of our offers for the 2009 Bordeaux en Primeur campaign!

Our offers will be constantly updated as new wines become available. These wines will be offered via email and will be immediately posted on the website.

This year we are offering good pricing (of course) via the traditional format of including the Australian taxes and inclusive of all freight and insurance. In addition we are also offering you the opportunity to buy the wine of your choice in-bond stored in Bordeaux. This option drastically reduces the prices as no Australian taxes or freight are payable now and leaves you with the option of deferring these taxes until you're ready to bring the wine into Australia or, alternatively, realise some accrual of value and then sell the wine back into the Bordeaux market.

You will see a complete explanation of our pricing options below but if you're still confused then contact Alex Wilcox on awilcox@theprince.com.au or Michael McNamara on mmcnamara@theprince.com.au. Please feel free to contact us with any of your queries about specific wines and don't forget our complete overview of the vintage is available via our website at www.princewinestore.com.au.

Regards

Alex Wilcox and Michael McNamara

PAY NOW FULLY INCLUSIVE SINGLE UNIT PRICE:

- If you are buying in quantities less than a case this is your only price available.
- This price includes: All taxes as they currently stand, all international shipping and insurance.
- What you have to pay later: Any standard shipping from South Melbourne to you.
- If the taxes change we will refund any amounts owing to you at the time of delivery.

PAY NOW UNBROKEN IN BOND CASE (DOZEN) PRICES:

- This is the price you pay now if you are buying in unbroken case (dozen) lots.
- This price secures your wine in bond in Europe.
- What you have to pay later:
  1. If you want your wine in Australia, you will have to pay the taxes (Duty WET and GST) the freight and other charges. We have estimated this with the 'Estimated delivered price below.' This second payment will be due in the first half of 2012 for shipping mid to late year.
  2. If you leave your wine in Bond in Europe, you have nothing further to pay except the bond storage fees in France. These are estimated at $2 per case per month but this will be confirmed in 2012. If in bond in Europe you have the opportunity to sell the wine back onto the Bordeaux market or into other world markets without incurring Australian taxes.

ESTIMATED DELIVERED CASE PRICE OF WINES IN BOND:

- This is the price we have estimated you will pay based on the current Australian taxes and international freight rates. We feel that there is a chance that this may vary over the next two years and the final payment will be subject to these things remaining similar to today's rate.

The following wines are listed alphabetically. Please note that we are only offering wines for sale where we have a confirmed order in place for that wine ourselves.

Rauzan Segla 2009

Margaux

Composed of 58% Cabernet Sauvignon and 42% Merlot, this large estate appears to have produced their greatest wine since the 1986. The alcohol came in at 13.9%, and the wine reveals extraordinary density, power, and richness as well as explosive fruit, and terrific acidity, intensity, and power. Yet it tastes like a crisp, delicate Margaux. Yields were 40 hectoliters per hectare. This outstanding 2009 should age nicely for 35-40+ years. (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 92-95

Ripe and fresh in dark fruits and violets. The wine has nice energy, freshness and balance. Real quality, Buy. PWS

Clos du Marquis 2009

St Julien

Clos du Marquis is being positioned by Jean-Hubert Delon as a separate single vineyard wine rather than Leoville Las Cases' second wine. The logic is simple. It has come from the same vineyard for over twenty years, and is not a true second wine in the sense that it is not made from Las Cases' discarded cuvees. The 2009 Clos du Marquis (70% Cabernet Sauvignon, 20% Merlot, and the rest Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot) came in at 13.75% alcohol. It exhibits a deep ruby/purple hue along with sweet notes of creme de cassis, great purity, a full-bodied mouthfeel, and terrific texture as well as length. It should evolve for 20-25 years. (Tasted once.) ROBERT PARKER 91-93

Raspberry and wild currant on the nose. Full-bodied, with superfine tannins and a long, pretty finish. Plenty of currant and mineral character. Builds on the finish. Tannic. JAMES SUCKLING 89-92

Talbot 2009

St Julien

This is the most impressive Talbot since the 1982 and 1986. It reveals an opaque plum/garnet/purple color as well as knock-out aromas of black fruits, cedar, incense, licorice, and a Provencal garrigue-like character. Substantial, sexy, and seductive, it is almost slutty in its exuberance and ostentatiousness. It was a thrill to drink this loaded St.-Julien. It should offer irresistible drinking over the next 20-25 years. (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 92-94

Some development at the rim. Light, graphite nose not without its attractions... Very sweet start but lifted and easy and utterly relaxed. Slightly dry tannins on the end. But very solid effort. Nice neat persistence. JANCIS ROBINSON

St Pierre 2009

St Julien

This has been a fabulous wine over recent vintages, but I do not think many consumers have caught on. Of course, there is far less of this classified-growth St.-Julien than of any of the Leovilles, Beychevelle, Talbot, Gruaud Larose, or Branaire Ducru. Unbelievably powerful, rich, and impressive, this may be the finest St.-Pierre ever made. An inky/purple color is followed by notes of creme de cassis, spring flowers, and forest floor, a layered, full-bodied, powerful mouthfeel, perfect balance, and extraordinary richness, purity, and unctuousity. This great St.-Julien should hit its peak in 7-10 years, and last for 30-50. Bravo! (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 94-98

Sultanas and subtle spices on the nose. Full-bodied, with chewy tannins and excellent fruit concentration. Long and succulent. Stylish stuff.JAMES SUCKLING 91-94

Haut Bages Liberal 2009

Pauillac

Currant and mint, with hints of fresh herbs. Lovely complex nose already. Full-bodied, with supersilky tannins and a long, racy finish. Solid core of beautiful fruit. JAMES SUCKLING 91-94

Black red, finely concentrated and rather tight black-currant fruit, a certain leafy leanness that is made up for by good middle concentration and length. DECANTER 17

Boyd Cantenac 2009

Margaux

Deep purple with a perfumed nose of flowers and blue and black fruits, this medium to full-bodied wine has a very pure, full-bodied personality. Rich and viscous, the 2009 Boyd is atypically thick and hefty. Drink it over the next 20-25 years. (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 90-92

Currant, blackberry and mineral aromas follow through to a full body, with silky tannins and beautiful fruit. Balanced and fine, with a gorgeous finish.JAMES SUCKLING 90-93

Prieure-Lichine 2009

Margaux

Beautiful floral-infused black fruits jump from the glass of this opaque ruby/purple-colored wine. Possibly richer, denser, and even more complete than the brilliant 2005 (although it is still too early to say that definitively), this is certainly a more opulent, succulent style of wine than even the 2005, which had surprising flesh for a wine from that vintage. The Right Bank consultant Stephane Derenoncourt has performed some magic here, as recent vintages attest, and the wines are often fairly priced as well. This full-bodied Prieure-Lichine should drink well for 20-25 years. (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 91-93

Lagrange 2009

St Julien

Intense aromas of blackberry and smoke. Full-bodied, with velvety tannins and long finish. Solid and tight. As it should be. WINE SPECTATOR 91-94 slightly lighter, less powerful style of St.-Julien, but also less oaky than previous vintages have tended to be, the 2009 Lagrange offers attractive, fresh, red and black currant notes, and an elegant as well as corpulent attack and mid-palate. This wine does not have the weight of the "big boys" of St.-Julien, but it displays an endearing finesse, freshness, and purity. It is by no means a wimpish, understated wine, but in the context of the 2009 vintage, it is somewhat overwhelmed by many of its neighbors. Enjoy it over the next two decades. (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 90-93

Grand Puy Lacoste 2009

Pauillac

Lovely nose of sweet currant and blueberry that follows through to a full body, with juicy, velvety tannins and a licorice, tar and dark chocolate finish. Like it. JAMES SUCKLING, WINE SPECTATOR

Black red, big, smoky, almost leathery fruit, really great purity and intensity of flavour and great freshness and depth, with the tannins perfectly absorbed. DECANTER

Pavie Macquin 2009

St Emilion

Yields here were 30 hectoliters per hectare, and the final blend 85% Merlot, 11% Cabernet Franc, and the rest Cabernet Sauvignon. The dynamic duo of Stephane Derenoncourt and Nicolas Thienpont produced nearly 4,000 cases of wine from this terroir, which has been promoted to a first growth in the St.-Emilion hierarchy. The 15% natural alcohol is rather shocking, because it is not the least bit noticeable. The wine is inky purple-colored, with loads of viscosity, an unctuous texture, and an enormous nose of charcoal, graphite, blackberry liqueur, and forest floor in a full-bodied, seamlessly constructed style. At the same time, the impression is one of a very unevolved, backward wine that has even more weight to put on and more nuances to reveal. I think this is one wine where the "plus" in the numerical rating will be very revealing. Forget it for 5-7 years and drink it over the next 30-40 years. (Tasted five times.) ROBERT PARKER 94-96+

Superfocused and beautiful, like looking at Mont Blanc with a clear sky and a blanket of snow. Full and refined, with gorgeous fruit and wonderful refinement. Silky tannins. Clearly the best ever. JAMES SUCKLING

Phelan Segur 2009

St Estephe

The delicious 2009 Alter Ego de Palmer (an equal part blend of Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon) could have been drunk when I tasted it. A dense ruby/purple color is accompanied by smoky blackberry and black currant fruit notes, and a silky smooth, expansive, hedonistic, pleasure-filled wine that should drink well for a decade. (Tasted once.) ROBERT PARKER 89-92

Deep aromas of crushed blackberries and fresh herbs. Full-bodied, with round and soft tannins and a polished texture on the finish. Rich and structured. Could be best ever from here. JAMES SUCKLING

Reserve de la Comtesse 2009

Pauillac

The finest second wine they have made, the 2009 Reserve de Comtesse is composed of 53% Cabernet Sauvignon, 38% Merlot, and the rest Cabernet Franc. Flavorful and full-bodied with loads of texture and opulence, it offers up aromas of forest floor and black fruits. The surprisingly high tannin level is barely noticeable given the sweetness of the fruit and abundant glycerin. Nevertheless, the 13% alcohol is right in line with that of the Pichon Lalande. Drink the Reserve de Comtesse over the next 10-15 years. (Tasted once.)

Like most Medoc chateaux, Pichon Lalande began their harvest on September 22, and finished on October 7. ROBERT PARKER 91-93

Black red, big smoky wild violets nose, seductive fruit, fleshy and lifted, a really lovely Saint-Julien style Pauillac, all of a piece. DECANTER

Alter Ego de Palmer 2009

Margaux

Fine deep colour, very fragrant nose, beautiful extraction of ripe Merlot/Cabernet fruit, smooth and elegant and more personality than usual in a second wine. Drink 2009-16. DECANTER 17

The delicious 2009 Alter Ego de Palmer (an equal part blend of Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon) could have been drunk when I tasted it. ## Pagodes de Cos 2009

Saint Estephe

The 2009 Les Pagodes de Cos is also a remarkable offering. Composed of 69% Cabernet Sauvignon, 30% Merlot, and 1% Petit Verdot, it tips the scales at 14.5% alcohol, and is better than most Cos d'Estournel vintages produced in the 1950s, 1960s, and 1970s. It is a full-bodied, opulently concentrated wine of amazing richness, density, and intensity. As with the grand vin, the harvest began on September 26 and finished on October 10. This wine possesses this vintage's classic characteristics of enormous power, massive fruit, and extraordinary freshness and precision - largely unprecedented, particularly for Cabernet-based wines in the Medoc. (Tasted once.) ROBERT PARKER 91-94

In many respects we found this wine more balanced than the Cos itself. It certainly shows the plush and ultra-ripe fruit of the aforementioned wine but it stops short of being dried out and porty, rather it will probably be one of the best of its type ever made. PWS

Gloria 2009

St Julien

There have been many great Glorias over the years as this property consistently over-performs. The 2009 may be the finest yet produced. Loaded with notes of Christmas fruitcake intermixed with red and black currants, licorice, spice box, and blackberries, this inky/purple-colored wine is atypically full-bodied with a viscous texture, and loads of tannin, extract, and richness. Deep and layered, it will offer thrilling sipping over the next 25+ years. (Bottles of the 1982 I own are fully mature, but are not close to falling apart.) (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 91-93

Full, rich and explosive on the nose. Very subtle and well balanced and gorgeous. Dry not drying finish. The zest of St-Julien with a hint of white pepper and clove. Nice wine! JANCIS ROBINSON 17

Grand Puy Ducasse 2009

Paulliac

Possibly the finest wine yet produced at this estate, the 2009 is even fatter, richer, and more unctuously textured than the 2005 (which I loved). It boasts an opaque purple color, thrilling levels of sweet creme de cassis and blackberries along with hints of underbrush as well as forest floor, silky tannins, full body, and a plush, heady, opulent personality. This stunning wine should drink well for two decades. (Tasted three times.) ROBERT PARKER 90-93

Lafon Rochet 2009

St Estephe

Perhaps the finest Lafon Rochet ever made, the purity, freshness, and sweet, rich, blueberry and boysenberry fruit and hint of pen ink that are found in this opaque purple-colored wine are impressive. Massive in the mouth, with freshness, delineation, and sweet tannin, it is a major sleeper of the vintage that should last for 25+ years. (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 91-93

In our opinion this wine in 2009 transcends its usual position as a good, consistent performer to a star of the vintage. A absolute standout for value and quality. A must buy. PWS

Sociando Mallet 2009

Haut Medoc

Ferocious tannins are not unusual for Sociando Mallet, but I was surprised that in a vintage that produced exceptionally tannic, but ripe wines, the Sociando Mallet tannins were atypically austere. Nevertheless, the wine boasts huge concentration along with an inky/purple color, a full-bodied, powerful palate, and a long finish. Excellent purity, density, and minerality are present in this cuvee, and it is capable of lasting 30-40 years. This estate is situated on some of the finest terroir of the Haut-Medoc, near Calon-Segur in St.-Estephe. (Tasted two times.) ROBERT PARKER 90-92

Deep purple. Scented and very well integrated but not as intensely sweet as most St-Estèphes. Hint of yeast extract. Very interesting! Lots of vitality. Lightly drying on the finish but with real character and restraint – just the merest hint of whisky barrels. JANCIS ROBINSON 16.5

Giscours 2009

Margaux

This is the finest Giscours I have tasted in my professional career. Succulent and sexy with an inky/purple color, it offers sweet aromas of subtle barbecue smoke, graphite, blackberries, blueberries, and spring flowers. The tannins are remarkably sweet, substantial, and well-integrated, and the wine is full-bodied as well as voluptuously textured. It is a head-turning, exuberant, flashy effort that should drink well for 20-25 years. Bravo! (Tasted three times.)

ROBERT PARKER 91-93

Cantemerle 2009

Haut Medoc

This blend of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot, with the Cabernet dominating, looks to be the best they have ever produced, even eclipsing the 2005. Dense purple in color, with extraordinarily elegant floral notes intermixed with raspberry, black currant, cherry, and spice box, it is medium to full-bodied, not massive, but again, very seamless, with beautiful precision, sweet tannins, and an endearing fleshiness and depth of flavor that are neither heavy nor fatiguing. This wine will be relatively approachable in 3-5 years and drink well for 25-30. (Tasted two times.)

Bernadotte 2009

Haut Medoc

The finest La Bernadotte made to date, this 2009 is an undeniable sleeper of the vintage. Composed of 47% Cabernet Sauvignon, 47% Merlot, and the rest Petit Verdot, it reveals a dense purple color along with a big, sweet kiss of black cherries, black currants, charcoal, and spice. With layers of fruit, decent acidity, freshness, and precision, and an opulent, fleshy, succulent style, it should drink easily for a decade or more. (Tasted once.)

ROBERT PARKER 90-92

Plump, soft attack with a fruit-loaded and glycerol rich palate. It's very smart and as good as I've ever seen from this estate. Tannins are well covered by the fruit. Lovely wine and the freshness is maintained. PWS

Chasse-Spleen 2009

Moulis en Medoc

The 2009 is the finest Chasse Spleen since the 1989. Its deep purple color is accompanied by notes of graphite, black currants, sweet spice, and a hint of Chinese black tea. Full-bodied and opulent with well-integrated acidity, tannin, wood, and alcohol, it is a lush beauty to enjoy over the next 20+ years. (Tasted two times.)

Haut Bergey 2009

Pessac Leognan

One of the best over-achieving, value-priced wines in Pessac-Leognan, Haut-Bergey's vineyard enjoys a superb location near Malartic-Lagraviere and Domaine de Chevalier. Composed of 60% Cabernet Sauvignon and the rest primarily Cabernet Franc and a dollop of Petit Verdot, the opaque purple-hued 2009 reveals a big, exuberant nose of charcoal, black currants, sweet cherries, and graphite. Dense and full-bodied, with beautiful purity, texture, and length, it should drink well for 20+ years. (Tasted two times.) P.S. I also tasted the brilliant 2000 Haut-Bergey in March, 2010, and it was still a youngster in terms of its development

Les Ormes de Pez 2009

Saint Estephe

A sleeper of the vintage and the best Les Ormes de Pez made in decades, this opaque purple-hued 2009 offers up pure creme de cassis fruit intermixed with hints of charcoal, smoke, and crushed rocks. Medium to full-bodied and pure with good freshness as well as a soft, layered mouthfeel, it will offer delicious drinking over the next 10-15 years. ROBERT PARKER 88-90

Superb concentration, with spice, currant and berry character. Full and velvety. So long. At same quality level as the legendary 1955, or 1959. JAMES SUCKLING 92-95

Rahoul 2009

Pessac Leognan

Dark purplish crimson with a pale rim. Lifted, refreshing nose – quite a contrast to the Pey La Tour tasted immediately beforehand. Super-cool nose - menthol cigarettes? Lively and fresh and simple and supple. Very pretty but much riper and sweeter than most Graves vintages. Sweet with a note of green and then polished. JANCIS ROBINSON 16

Rahoul 2009 was a standout for value during the Graves tasting. It's ripe, fresh with a gravelly minerality and a hint of pine. The wine shows nice weight and good finishing balance. A good value Bordeaux. PWS

La Fleur de Bouard 2009

Lalande de Pomerol

The 2009 La Fleur de Bouard (made from yields of 45 hectoliters per hectare; 13.5% alcohol) is a Merlotbased wine with brilliant purity, abundant black cherry, plum, and boysenberry fruit, extraordinary density, decent acids, and high tannins. This full-bodied, concentrated, impressively endowed 2009 should age nicely for 10-15 years. At a recent tasting of the 2000 vintage, I was reminded of how great this estate's luxury cuvee can be. It was off the charts in terms of richness and personality. (Tasted three times.) Unquestionably a star of Lalande de Pomerol is the 50 -acre estate of Hubert and Corinne de Bouard, who produce wines that fly well above their pedigree. Tasting through older vintages proves that these are the "real deal," as they age quite well. One can even argue that the luxury cuvee, La Plus de la Fleur de Bouard, is one of the top twenty wines being produced in Bordeaux - a remarkable achievement given the appellation's lack of status. Drink 2010-2025.

Marquis de Terme 2009

Margaux

The finest wine I have ever tasted from Marquis de Terme, this seamless beauty exhibits a dense ruby/purple color along with a big, sweet bouquet of licorice, seaweed, black currants, and spring flowers. Medium to full-bodied with silky tannins, a rich, concentrated mouthfeel, and a long, layered finish, it will benefit from 3-4 years of cellaring, and should evolve for 20-25 years. ROBERT PARKER 89-91

We loved this wine at the tastings earlier this year. It's ambitious in that it shows good oak treatment but the strength of the fruit more than compensates and maintains brilliant freshness and purity. Gorgeous Margaux.PWS

Camensac 2009

Haut Medoc

Tasted at a negociant. Ripe blackberries and dark cherries on the nose that is tight at first and takes time to unfurl. Good purity and focus. The palate is medium-bodied with quite thick, chewy tannins. This is a Camensac that is trying very hard, so what it lacks in natural grace it makes up for in sheer effort and brute force. Sturdy tannins on the finish, but there is sufficient fruit here to back it up. Not a subtle wine, but enjoyable. A second sample showed a little jamminess on the nose. Tasted March 2010.

NEAL MARTIN 87-89

Thick and sweet on the nose. Plusciousness? Very sweet start and then polished tannins. Pretty appetising. But the tannins are not the ripest. Just a bit rasping on the finish. Drink 2015-2022

Poujeaux 2009

Moulis

The Cuvelier family that has done so much to resurrect Clos Fourtet purchased this estate that had long been the pride and joy of the Theil family. A large vineyard, and certainly the finest wine of the somewhat forgotten appellation of Moulis, the yields in 2009 were 40 hectoliters per hectare, and the wine is a blend of 50% Cabernet Sauvignon, 40% Merlot, and the rest Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot. Soft, fleshy, and opulent, with lots of black currant and black cherry fruit intermixed with hints of cedar and spice box, and an enticing texture result in a wine to drink now and over the next 10-12 years. It is a sleeper of the vintage. (Tasted once.) ROBERT PARKER 90-93

One of the better wines we saw at a high-quality tasting at Chateau Cantemerle. The feature is a core of dark berry fruit and good chewy fruit-derived tannins. The mid-palate is well-covered and the wine carries forward to the back palate with good freshness and balance. I really like this wine. PWS

Fontenil 2009

Fronsac

Very deep and fleshy but then lovely freshness. Moueix must be kicking himself for getting out of Fronsac! Drink 2016-2026

JANCIS ROBINSON 16.5

The 2009 Fontenil (95% Merlot and 5% Cabernet Sauvignon) displays a deep opaque purple color as well as notes of black raspberries, spring flowers, blueberries, and a hint of blackberries. Rich and fullbodied with admirable definition and precision, sweet tannin, and a long finish of over 35 seconds, it is a super effort as well as a big time sleeper of the vintage in 2009. Enjoy it over the next 10-15 years. (Tasted once.) These appear to be the finest wines the brilliant oenologists Dany and Michel Rolland have produced at Fontenil, their home estate. ## Beaumont 2009

Cru Bourgeois Supérieur, Médoc

We saw this wine twice over the tasting. A good wine with nice fruit sweetness, on the riper end but holds the oak well and has nice freshness. Built for the medium-term but has good approachability now. PWS

Dark crimson. Bright fruit. Very sweet palate entry – all pleasure in a very luscious way. Could be VGV. Hedonistic but may not last all that long? Very Good Value. JANCIS ROBINSON

Petit Bocq 2009

Cru Bourgeois Supérieur, Saint-Estèphe

Tasted at Vintex. This has an exotic, yet well defined nose with black cherries, apricot, damson and a touch of cassis. Quite pretty, although it does not reek of Saint Estephe. The palate is medium-bodied with very fine tannins, good acidity, lovely balance and a great deal of finesse and focus towards the lithe, sophisticated finish. This is a great Saint Estephe, succinctly made. Tasted March 2010. NEAL MARTIN 91-93

This was a great value for money wine in 2005 and again it has overdelivered in 2009. Really good aromatic of dark cabernet fruit and evident cedary oak. On the palate the oak is there but its surrounded by a fresh core of fruit. The wine finishes dry but not dried out and tannins are ripe and well managed. A real bargain of the vintage.PWS

La Fleur de Gay 2009

Pomerol

A 100% Merlot cuvee from the plateau of Pomerol, the 2009 La Fleur de Gay exhibits striking floral, blueberry, black raspberry, graphite, and subtle oak, charcoal, and camphor notes. This fleshy, full-bodied wine possesses outstanding purity, exceptional body, and admirable opulence as well as richness. It is the best effort from La Fleur de Gay since the 2000, 1990, and 1989. It should drink well for 25-30+ years. (Tasted once.) ROBERT PARKER 93-96

Poitevin 2009

This super value wine has become something of a staple for us at PWS in recent years; their ability to turn out wines of terroir in a clean well-made framework. The 2009 is ripe, shows good depth of dark and red berry fruit finishing with moderate and ripe tannins. As always it's a bargain buy extraordinaire! PWS

Very dark. Quite gamey. Not brett but on the cusp... Fresh and lively – rises above sheer mass. A very satisfactory Médoc with 2009 depth. For the moment a bit dry on the end.

Fonreaud 2009

Haut Medoc

This wine fits into a more generous and modern category showing good ripeness of cabernet (60%) and merlot fruit (35%) seasoned by mocha vanillin oak reminiscent of a Roland wine. Viewed from that point of view it's a very smart effort with nice fruit ripeness and plenty of energy and freshness. Finishes with some drying oak tannin but not enough to cause concern. Excellent value Bordeaux. PWS

Especially dark crimson. Dark chocolate notes. Very sweet and Napa Valley-like. Very sweet, well-managed tannins. Super-ripe and nice freshness, too. No pain at all to drink! Though it might be a little tricky for blind tasters. Very well made. Nice length. JANCIS ROBINSON 17

Coutet 2009

Barsac

The Coutet 2009 is a sensational effort from Philippe Baly and his team. It has a fragrant nose of honey, vervain tea, pineapple, frangipane and apple-blossom, well defined if needing a little more vigour at the moment. The palate is vibrant on the entry, informed by touches of apricot and orange peel, very focused and tensile towards the long, sensuous, viscous finish. It has the same minerality exuded by Doisy-Daene and reminds me of a stellar '62 tasted just a few weeks previously. A magnificent Coutet. NEAL MARTIN (PARKER'S WINE ADVOCATE) 96-98

de Malle 2009

Sauternes

Deep gold. Sweet, candied violets on the nose. Fresh and precise on the front palate. Masses of weight and sweetness. Still a baby but it promises well. A rather burnt element to it, in an interesting way. Savoury, dry finish. Serious stuff that should repay a considerable wait. Long. JANCIS ROBINSON 17.5

The de Malle 2009 remains aromatically subdued, yet the palate is adorned with crisp pear and nectarine tinged on the entry with racy acidity that brings such vivacity. Quite linear, but maintaining good freshness from start until its lemongrass-tinged finish, it will hopefully gain more complexity by the time of bottling, by which time it may merit a higher mark.ROBERT PARKER 88-90+

La Tour Blanche 2009

Sauternes

Tang and interest on the nose. Big, weighty. But with good acidity and definition and it's awfully difficult to spit! Long and rich, a bit hot on the end? Still a bit chewy.

JANCIS ROBINSON 18

The 2009 La Tour Blanche is very primal on the nose with grapefruit, nectarine and apricot aromas. The palate is very well balanced, just a little oaky at the moment but with a very fine thread of acidity. Touches of fresh apricot, a hint of nougat, lime zest and white peach. Well balanced, linear at the front palate but voluminous and expanding across the mouth in every direction on the viscous, mineral-rich finish. There is so much potential here. ## Lafaurey Peyraquey 2009

Sauternes

There is some SO2 masking the nose here, which is difficult to assess. However, the palate is well balanced with fine minerality, bright citrus fruit, orange zest, a touch of white peach and apricot, good tension towards the finish with a dash of lemongrass on the aftertaste. There is very good weight and botrytis on this Lafaurie Peyraquey that linger seductively. ROBERT PARKER 92-94

Quite deep gold. Looks very fat. Not very much nose, and sheer weight is its strong point. A bit chewy. This should give pleasure but it's not one of the most subtle. Raw pear juice. Bit of a boxer. Though with good acidity. JANCIS ROBINSON 17+

Sauternes

Very tight and taciturn on the nose at the moment, but the palate is very well balanced with vibrant acidity, real clarity of fruit here with a superb, tense, citrus finish that just slices through that pure, heavenly botrytized fruit. ## Rieussec 2009

Sauternes

The minerality and stoniness really comes through on the nose of this Rieussec, more than the 2007. The palate is very well balanced with superb acidity, real tension, steely with great precision with notes of apricot, white peach and honey on the beautifully defined finish. ## De Farques 2009

Sauternes

Big and dense and gold. Sweet and coconut and sweet-shop nose. Big and rich and a little bit hot. Impressive rather than expressive. Very massive structure with a hint of oak. May well come round to something even more complex.

JANCIS ROBINSON 17.5

The nose is rather taciturn at first, unfurling with tantalizing slowness: clear honey, pear, orange-blossom and apricot. Wonderful definition. The palate is not as powerful as others, but there is a tangible sense of minerality underlying the honeyed fruit, very focused and endowed with breathtaking definition and tension towards the vibrant finish. ROBERT PARKER 95-97
